

NOT A
DAY WITHOUT A
LINE

---

understanding artists' writings

Helena De Preester (ed.)

Table of contents

Letter to the Reader	V
Anouk De Clercq

Acknowledgements	IX
------------------	----

1   Disciplinarity and Methodological Promiscuity in Artists' Writings	1
Helena De Preester

I Dialogue and Communication

2   Opening the Letters of Niki de Saint Phalle —	17
What is Now Known Was Once Only Imagined
Isabelle Schwarz

3   Textual Dialogue: on Game-Playing & Collaboration	45
Carson &amp; Miller

II Emancipating Writing in the 1960s

4   "Why Let the Critics Speak For You?": New York Artists' Writings, 1965-68	59
Leanne Carroll

5   Language as Material. Textual Structures in the Writings of Robert Smithson and his Contemporaries	79
Dorothee Wagner

6   Texts to be Read and to be Looked at: the Entropic Writing of Robert Smithson	95
Laurence Corbel

III Text, Body, Performance

- 7 Keeping Score: Considering Performance Texts as Artists' Writings 113
Susan Jarosi
- 8 Record Work. Accounts of Writing, Reading, Moving and Speaking
Performance's Documentary History 127
Giles Bailey
- 9 The Matter of Dialogue. Aesthetic Discourse as and in the Artistic Practice of Bruce Nauman 145
Eva Ehninger

IV Methodological Promiscuity in Contemporary Artists' Writings

- 10 The Poetry of Gagarin 163
Simon Deakin
- 11 "I'm Ready." Thinking about Artists' Writings in a Global Context Today 177
Kristine Stiles